

GERMAN RAIDERS KILL 74 BRITISH SUBJECTS IN UNFORTIFIED TOWNS

ENGLAND STIRRED WITH WRATHFUL INDIGNATION PREPARES TO STRENGTHEN COAST DEFENSE.

SINK THREE STEAMERS?

Reported Disaster Off Flanborough Head Said To Have Included Passenger Boat—Sea Traffic Stopped Indefinitely.

South Shields, England, Dec. 17.—Three steamers, one believed to be a passenger ship, were sunk by mines in the North Sea off Flanborough head last night. Only one of these three vessels have so far been identified. This is the steamer Elterwitzer, twelve of whose crew were saved, but seven lost their lives, the casualties on the other ships have not yet been determined, but it is reported that the crew and passenger of the passenger vessel were seen taking to their boats.

The admiralty has announced that all traffic between Flanborough head and Newcastle has been stopped indefinitely.

Seventy-four persons were killed and 147 wounded, according to best figures obtainable, in the raid on the east coast of England yesterday by German warships. The heaviest losses were in Hartlepool where the British information bureau announced 55 persons were killed and 115 wounded. Official reports give the casualties in Scarborough at 17 killed and 30 wounded, and at Whitby at two killed and two wounded.

A number of victims at Hartlepool were women and children. Fifteen school boys were killed by a single shell, only one boy in a group escaping. Ten persons were killed by the collapse of a building in which they had taken shelter. One shell damaged a building five miles from shore.

The successes of the Germans making their way past the line of British warships and through mine fields and escaping after the bombardment, leave England to expect another attack, preparations for which are under way. Berlin is elated, and the newspapers there hint that yesterday's exploit may be the prelude to greater events in the seas.

Germany's new plan for the operation against the Russian armies is unfolding gradually. Petrograd dispatches say that the Austro-German landing movement on the Carpathian mountains and in Galicia is being conducted on a large scale and that they threaten the Russian line of communication. Such importance is attached to these maneuvers that apparently Germany assumed the offensive in the Thann region, Armenia, and were decisively beaten. The Turkish statement says that these battles "resulted in our favor."

Russia's Caucasian army is having a quiet rest with the Turkish. Official statements are at such sharp variance that it is difficult to form an opinion of what is happening. The Russian official staff says that the German army is making a dash for the Caucasus, but the Turkish statement says that these battles "resulted in our favor."

London, Dec. 17.—The crippling of telephone and telegraph wires by the bombardment yesterday of seaports on the east coast of England by German cruisers, with the precautions taken about these towns by the police and military authorities made it impossible even today to obtain more than an approximate estimate of the civilians dead and wounded. Altogether it is reported seventy-four were killed and 147 wounded. This does not include the slightly wounded civilians who bandaged their own hurts and left the town on the first train.

All England Aroused. Bristling with wrath and resentment with this attack on unfortified towns, England is astir today as never before since the war was declared. Another raid is confidently expected and the entire machinery of home defense has been put into action. On the east and southeast coast of England emergency committees are at work, while in London plans to organize a national guard of men too old for military service, are under way. Although to the British mind a raid on London seems remote, yesterday's bombardment drove home the realities of war as nothing could.

Through wireless telegraphy Berlin promptly heard of the outcome of this raid of German cruisers to the English coast, and this morning a wireless message from the German capital picked up here repeated details of the attack as printed by British newspapers yesterday.

At high speed the German raiders, carrying uterine, should have reached their advance naval base on Heligoland some time after midnight last night, their trip requiring about fifteen hours.

TABOO "GLOOM" MAIL TO FRENCH TROOPERS

Censors Pass Only Letters Containing the "Joy's"—Incidentally Letter Style Changes.

Paris, Dec. 17.—Only letters that are devoid of all gloomy news or utterances are permitted to reach the hands of French soldiers. This is in accordance with an irrevocable order of military authorities. They also insist that all communications must be either unsealed, or written on post-cards.

One family complained that it received letters from a son almost daily, but after a month of war he had not received a single word from home. Investigation showed that each one of the letters written by the boy's mother contained such words as "desolation" and "despair." She was told that her son was seeing enough desolation at the front and did not need to hear of it at home. The style of the letters changed, and now they are arriving promptly.

ENGLISH SHIPBUILDERS NOT EFFECTED BY WAR.

(Correspondence of The A. P.) London, Dec. 17.—The various shipbuilding yards now are as busy as they have been for years. The loss of many ships, due to being bottled up or sunk, made freight rates high, creating an increased demand for new tonnage. As war has hastened repairs on old or captured craft. The repairing yards are full with orders, and new steamers are not being guaranteed for early delivery owing to pressure of work. A suggestion has been made by the Newcastle Chamber of Commerce and Admiralty committee that some of the Austrian and German steamers now tied up in British harbors should be employed to relieve the present shortage of tonnage. Merchants, especially in the coal trade, are suffering in consequence through this shortage, which was caused partly by the vessels being requisitioned by the Government and by delays and congestion at foreign ports. It is said the Admiralty is seriously considering the proposal.

Chicago, Dec. 17.—More than 63,000 cattle arrived the first half of the week, being the largest three succeeding days' receipts in several years. Prices were unevenly lower, with the bulk of beef steers $1.15 below a week ago. Many thousands remained unsold.

Hog values again advanced, the average price yesterday standing high in a week at $7.16. Best lambs sold at 80 or 25c above Tuesday, and highest since Dec. 3. Hogs are 50c lower and lambs $1 higher than a year ago.

Receipts for today are estimated at 5,000 cattle and 15,000 sheep, against 8,247 cattle, 35,948 hogs and 11,961 sheep a week ago, and 6,348 cattle, 34,529 hogs and 19,494 sheep corresponding Thursday a year ago.

Hog Average Higher.

SIGNING OF JOHNSON GIVES NEW LIFE TO THE OUTLAW LEAGUE

Mighty Walter and Rube Marquard Will Be Great Drawing Cards for the Feds Next Year.

By Hal Sheridan.

New York, Dec. 17.—Many a shakedown will be ordered into the Federal coffers through the drawing ability of Walter Johnson and Rube Marquard, provided of course, the Washington and New York authorities are unsuccessful in their fight to get them back.

Walter Johnson undoubtedly is one of the greatest drawing cards that ever donned a baseball suit. He has proven as great in this respect as Cobb, Lajoie, Bagner, Hal Chase and a few others that might be mentioned. Poor old Rube Waddell himself, with all his wonderful pitching ability and eccentricities on the field, wasn't a bigger magnet for money to the club owners than Walter Johnson had been to Washington.

The big Kansan virtually was responsible for bringing the Senators to life and the first division after they had been hibernating and decaying in last place for years. It was really the work of Walter Johnson that made Washington fans yell for a team that would come somewhere near filling the great twister. It was like the old joke of getting a shirt to sew on a button; but that's what was actually done at Washington. And it was Walter who was the cause of it all.

He was worth every cent they paid him in the matter of bringing fans with their hard dollars to the box of life.

Rube Marquard isn't now and never was so good a drawing card as Johnson, but he has always been powerful popular with the fans. If Marquard had been in anything like his form of 1912 the Giants and not the Braves would have played the Athletics in the post season series last fall.

The Rube's popularity is not to be overlooked; he is one of the most beloved of twisters in the game, owing a part to such stunts as his 13 straight victories and the 21-inning game contest he won in Pittsburgh last season, from Babe Adams. If he returns to form in 1915, as well as Johnson, will earn his keep.

Two other drawing cards who undoubtedly will help swell Federal box office receipts will be Chief Bender and Eddie Plank. The former has been raised that both have been, or at least that neither have much more of the old stuff left. This may be true, but they will both play in towns that have never seen a big league team in action or that may never have seen the only Bender and the only Plank. If each wins only half his games it will not make much difference.

ence. There'll still be hundreds of fans who will pass through the Fed counting styles just to see either in action.

It would be a little difficult to decide whether roller skating comes under the head of sport or pleasure—or both, at any rate, the carnival now in progress at Madison Square Garden is furnishing some keen competition and some fun as well.

The present carnival which will last three days is a revival for roller skating in this city. There was a huge skating rink here when it was considered quite the thing to skate and well-appointed rinks came into existence all over the country. For some reason or other, however, the rinks closed down after a year or two of amazing popularity and movie houses and maxixe palaces have succeeded them.

Amateur men in Manhattan are watching, therefore, with keen interest the successes of the Garden venture. And the management of the latter has gone to considerable expense to make an attractive background—on foot, or on skates, if you will—for the skaters. A specially-prepared track with long flat stretches and high banks was put up recently for the skaters and as an encouragement for greater speed for the racers in the 24 hour race. Excellent living quarters were erected by the side of the track with kitchens and snug sleeping quarters.

That these preparations were appreciated, too, was shown by the good lots of teams entered when no less than fifteen from various sections showed their willingness to take part. And not the least of all is the $6,000 prize money.

Sport Snap Shots

Official National League averages tend to dispel the importance that has been attached to base stealing. Good base running always is important. But base stealing is quite a different matter. Boston's Braves won the National League pennant with fewer stolen bases than any club in the league. They swiped a total of 139 bases. Of this number Johnny Evers stole nine, but Evers is not considered a slow man or a poor base runner. Evers' base stealing mark this year was lower than one he made with the Cubs a few years ago. He stole only eleven sacks that season. Owner Murphy then told him he was through, saying that any player who steals only eleven bases in a full season is through.

The time when the mere name of Yale and Princeton granted those schools immunity from comparison with less well-known institutions has gone. Two passing seasons show more and more that both Yale and Princeton have enough to do to keep their records inviolate from defeat.

And then the Feds gathered at the banquet table, where the choicest and daintiest of viands were arrayed. And shifted and shifted and shifted and shifted and shifted and shifted. And when all had eaten to their capacity and left the festal board, along came Walter Johnson, Chief where once they thought it a disgrace to be scored on by any other eleven than a member of the big three.

More time, money and attention to detail are given the "big three" today than probably any of the lesser teams they face. Considering the advantages they have in these respects, their superior showing is slight, if any.

The football title of today, like the game itself, is more open than it was eight years ago.

Freddie Welsh now can qualify as a regular pugilistic champion. Freddie has been dubbed a "cheese champion" by New York sporting writers. No champion is the real goods until New York has turned up her nose at him. Ad Voigast, Johnny Kilbane, Johnny Coulton and other champions were freely criticized after first bouts in Gotham. But the strange part about it is that they continue holding their titles for some time after New York had hung the N. G. sign on them. Welsh drew lots of caustic criticism after his bout with Joe Shugrue, his first in Gotham as lightweight champion.

Hereafter challengers for the middleweight title will have to do 155 pounds ringside if they want to step into the charmed circle. This announcement has been made by Manager Larry Lichtenstein, who looks after the interests of Jimmy Clabby, the leading middle. Clabby is now at his home in Hammond, Ind. Chances are he will not box again until the new year.

"We have just received a flattering offer from New Orleans," said Lichtenstein. "They want us to open the new arena that will be ready for the middle of January. Of course they want Clabby with Gibbons."

"But here's one thing I want to make public in no uncertain language. In the future, middleweights must do 155 pounds ringside if they care for a match with Clabby. Jimmy has boxed a lot of the big fellows just to prove he is the best of the middleweights, but now they must come to his figures."

Michigan university football teams have won 332 per cent of all games played in the 14 years Yost has been coach there. Under Yost the Wolverines have played 119 games, winning 99, losing 13 and tying 7. Figuring the percentage of victories the way baseball standings are computed by losing out five games, Michigan's percentage under Yost would be .844. In the 14 years Yost has been on the job Michigan has had five no-defeat seasons and three in which the maize and blue won every game. Yost's teams have averaged 32 92-119 points per game and have held their opponents to an average of 3 23-119 points.

And then the Feds gathered at the banquet table, where the choicest and daintiest of viands were arrayed. And shifted and shifted and shifted and shifted and shifted and shifted. And when all had eaten to their capacity and left the festal board, along came Walter Johnson, Chief

Ralph De Palma.

American motor followers are pinning their hopes on Ralph De Palma, the American-Italian speed driver, to win back track honors to an American pilot in the next Indianapolis 500-mile race. De Palma was the fourth driver to sign and will pilot his own six cylinder aviation motor Mercedes, a German machine. De Palma although a winner in many important American speed events, including three Elgin races, the Vanderbilt and Grand prix, has never been the first to receive the checkered flag at the Indianapolis sweepstakes. In 1912 he was within ten miles of the finish when fate swept away a fortune and allowed Joe Dawson to pass his broken machine. There is no better or more consistent driver in the world than De Palma.

Bender, Eddie Plank and Rube Marquard. Yes, there was enough for them, too, and from all accounts there seems to be plenty of food left. If we are to believe all the stories of wealth that come to us in tales of the Fed dealings, they all appear to be pretty well-fed.

If you would spend your money judiciously—keep your eyes on the bargains the merchants are offering in these columns.

WESTERN GUNNERS SHOOT AT WASHINGTON TODAY

Washington, Dec. 17.—Western clubs of the National Rifle association of America were slated to open their 1914-1915 contests today. The eastern clubs will start their contests next week.

JEW PRODUCE SOME GOOD GLOVE ARTISTS

Charlie White's correct name is Anichowitz. Charlie is Hebrew to the backbone and one of the "fighting" Jews that ever came over the pike, so it is asserted. That's saying quite a bit. Some of the greatest fighters the ring ever produced have been Jews. Joe Chynski, Tommy Ryan, Abe Attell, Joe Bernstein, Harry Lewis, Kid Hermann and Benny Yanger are some of the great Hebrew scrappers. Chynski unquestionably is one of the greatest men that ever put on gloves, and in the estimation of all the experts Tommy Ryan is the cleverest boxer that ever performed in the roped arena. Ryan's real name is Rinoski or something on that order.

IS RUBE A GIANT OR IS HE A FED?

Rube Marquard.

Will someone please tell Rube Marquard whether he is a New York Giant or a Brookfield. Rube recently signed a Brookfield contract. The Giants raised a howl that Rube belonged to them. The Feds then said they would return Marquard if the Giants could prove he was bound to by contract. Thus far the Giants have ignored the Fed offer.

THIS is how news of the Real Tobacco Chew spreads! A man tucks the little chew of "Right-Cut" away—gets the rich tobacco taste and the comfort of it and feels so good about it that he just can't help talking about it to his friends.

Mellow, sappy tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and moist so that you won't have to grind it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and spices. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut". One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

THE SAVING HABIT.
The fifteen thousand dollars paid out this week to the patrons of the Christmas club, by the Rock County Savings and Trust company, is an object lesson, on small savings, worthy of consideration. This money, distributed among several hundred depositors, represents the accumulation of pennies and nickels saved during the year by placing them where they could not be spent and it is safe to say that they were never missed.

More than the value of the money—which comes like finding it at Christmas time—is the value of the saving habit. This was the thought which inspired the promoters, and it is gratifying to know that the plan was a success, because it demonstrates the fact that saving, like every other habit, can be cultivated, under intelligent encouragement.

The pennies and nickels slip through our fingers like water. Individually they represent so little in value that we seldom give them a thought, and yet they are the foundation of fortunes. They are the coin of childhood, and as they often come without effort, they usually burn a hole in the pocket and escape in the early stages of possession.

The thrift fund shows what they represent in cumulative value, and the ranks of the Christmas club should be crowded another year. It is an old saying that the first thousand dollars is always the most difficult to accumulate. This is so true that many people never tackle the job, but to those who do, and succeed, it means more than the money represented, because the saving has developed thrift and economy, as well as a knowledge of the value of money—knowledge which so many of us do not appreciate.

In some cities school children are encouraged to save their pennies by having the teachers deposit them in a savings bank. This has never been tried in Janesville, but the Christmas club plays a close second. Every bank everywhere can afford to encourage small savings. They mean thrift in a community, and a thrifty community is always prosperous.

The claim was made, before the war, that a large majority of the people of France were savings bank depositors, and the fact is well known that government loans were always floated by the common people of the European republic.

The facilities for making money are infinitely better in America than in France, but we enjoy the reputation of being a nation of spenders. Let us commence the new year by adopting and cultivating the saving habit. A recent writer offers the following suggestions regarding savings:

"As a nation we are not taught that economy which makes France the banker of the world, and whose accumulations come not from vast exports of natural resources, but from the combined small savings, consistently continued year after year, by the French people as a whole."

"If the people of this country would save during the year 1915 an average of $10 per capita the grand total at the end of the first twelve months would be the magnificent sum of one billion dollars."

"The French save, partly because it has become hereditary, and chiefly because the children are brought up that way and are taught the dignity of accumulation. We, on the contrary, in a spirit of false pride, are inclined to scorn the necessity of saving, as though it were something of which to be ashamed. If our present experiences shall teach us thrift, it will be a strengthening of a great national weakness."

REAL CHARITY.

Real charity begins at home. The good book teaches us that the right hand should not know what the left hand does, and yet there are some people so anxious to stand in the limelight they forget the teachings and wish their charity exploited. There are hundreds of people in Janesville who do worlds of real, genuine good among the unfortunate without anyone being the wiser. Just at present the call is made for the Christmas committee of the Associated Charities. They have some fifty families on their lists and four hundred children to buy presents for. The response has been most liberal but more money can be used to a good advantage. Many fraternal societies have donated money for the work of the association, showing that they are living not to the teachings of their various organizations; others plan to do something in this line, either as an organization or through the general organization. This work is a wonderful help to the tireless workers of the association who devote time and thought to bringing aid and comfort to the unfortunate. It is a wonderful thing they have undertaken, a work that is well worth stopping and carefully considering. There are many families, not objects of charity, in the city, that with a bit of help during dark and stormy days, will be most grateful for the aid offered. Men without work. Women who would work if they could, and young children, sick persons, the aged and infirm, all of whom a bit of Christmas cheer at this time will be most welcome. It is not much in the individual cases, but in the aggregate they need attention, and words of comfort. Consequently the call has gone out for financial aid and it is expected that many a home will be made happier this Christmas for the personal sacrifice of the individuals who add their part to the ever-growing fund of the Christmas committee.

Now that the women of the city have taken hold of the rest room problem it really begins to look as though the city would have one after all. Let the council make an appropriation for its support for the present, if they can not build one, and place it in charge of the women. Why is not this a good plan?

The plea of furnishing fifty families with a Christmas dinner and four hundred children with Christmas toys has struck a cord in the hearts of citizens that is most gratifying. While more money is needed still the funds received thus far assure the success of the special committee of the Associated Charities appointed to look after the Christmas work.

State Inspectors Discover Astounding Conditions in Many Kitchens—Garbage Disposal Big Problem.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Madison, Wis., Dec. 17.—The use of soap and water, calcimine and paint and a little time to apply them are believed by the state board of health to be the proper agencies to bring the hotels and restaurants of the state up to the standard required by law. The hotel inspection law went into force Jan. 1, 1913, and in six months the two state inspectors, W. G. Alase and E. U. F. Loether have made 877 inspections of hotels and restaurants in upwards of 168 cities and villages of Wisconsin. The report of the hotel inspection department is to be published soon as a part of the biennial report of the state board of health, sets forth some interesting facts about conditions in hotels and restaurants of the state and the changes made and suggested in conformity with the new law.

Question of Garbage. From the inspection made it seems that the proper disposal of garbage is one of the greatest problems confronting the hotel inspectors. Rules and regulations have been formulated by the board for enforcement. The reports made show that few hotels and restaurants of the state have adequate facilities for caring for and removing waste from the kitchens and other eating places. In many instances leaky barrels or boxes are used which are inadequate and breeders of disease. The rules of the board adopted last August require a metal receptacle with tight fitting cover, the contents must be removed as often as necessary to prevent decomposition and overflow.

The report shows that the kitchen both in hotels and restaurants is often a cause of complaint. According to the report before inspection puns and utensils used for cooking purposes were sometimes left on the range from meal to meal to gather dust and other insects; dishes were allowed to stand on the tables until the next meal; food was left within the reach of rats, mice, roaches, flies and dust; floors, especially under the tables, were often dirty and rotten.

Many Kitchens Clean. "Although conditions such as the above have been often found it must not be assumed that all hotels and kitchens are in such condition," says the report. "Quite the contrary, for many proprietors of hotels and restaurants take great pride in keeping their kitchens of their establishments strictly clean, sanitary and in a systematic working order. However, the kitchen is the last place usually seen by the traveling public, and therefore the most in need of state inspection."

A report says it is the sleeping room of a hotel which is the most objectionable to the traveler, and where cleanliness is highly appreciated. The report states that sleeping rooms frequented by the traveling public are often found to be poorly lighted and ventilated; the ceiling, walls and carpet dirty; the bedding unclean and worn. As it is known that puns on ceilings and walls frequently harbor places for disease germs and bed bugs, the state board of health recommends that ceilings and walls in sleeping rooms either be painted or calcimined instead of papered; and that painted floors and rugs be substituted for old carpets. Under the rules of the board pillow slips and sheets must be changed as often as the bed is assigned to a different guest. The top sheet shall not be less than 96 inches. It has been found that only a few hotels comparatively speaking, have sheets at the present time that will fulfill the requirements in effect after Jan. 1, 1915.

The rules and regulations of the board make the property owner of a hotel responsible for his share of improvements and it is stated by the hotel inspectors that some decided renovations and alterations are being made in accordance with the new law. To June 30, 1914, 4,304 state permits have been issued to hotels and restaurants. Some 877 inspections have been made; written orders issued on 263 unsanitary places; 4,000 verbal replies received from 68, the balance are in correspondence. Complaints to the number of 37 have been made specifically by the traveling public and taken care of by the hotel division.

Conditions in hotels and restaurants, according to the report, show a marked improvement since the enactment of the law.

ment of the law, although there remains much room for improvement. The report of the hotel inspectors will be placed in the hands of the printers in a few days and shortly after Jan. 1, will be ready for inspection.

Effective Punishments. One of the first judges—real judges—of Deadwood put in operation many old ideas of corrective punishment. If a man was brought before him charged with shooting up a peaceful place without provocation this judge used to delight in tolling off half a dozen good shots, whose business it was to fire all around the accused, who was made to stand up against a wall. The closer the shots and the more scared the accused the better the judge liked it. If the accused demurred against this little tit-for-tat punishment he was formally ordered to stand up and the maximum sentence under the code was meted out to him. In the case of a prisoner who might not be impressed with the target practice sentence there were other penalties, such as a five mile gallop on a frisky horse, with the legs of the accused tied under the horse's belly and a saddle made of fair sized stones wrapped in a blanket for his seat. Protest against this meant again the extreme code punishment.
